JOY RIDING IN STATE CARS.

The cheapest practice ever adopted by public employees has been joy riding at the expense of the state. Governor Miller has come out flat-footedly against it and has declared that to use a state automobile for any other than official business should be made a misdemeanor. This attitude will receive the hearty approval of the people. The habit into which some employees fell, using state cars for personal pleasure, has been common gossip. It was never doubted, however, that some governor would put a check on it that would be effective. In his message, Governor Miller leaves nothing to be misunderstood.

In one of the investigations some time since it was brought out that cars purchased by the state for official use at various institutions had never been used for that purpose but had been devoted to pleasure riding almost exclusively. There was much comment then, but in the rush of events it was not developed to the extent necessary to force the issue. It seems definite now that joy riding in state cars will cease, in that all automobiles owned by the state will carry the official insignia to identify them wherever they are seen. This in itself will be a check on the abuse, which should have been stopped at the very beginning. Governor Miller makes reference to the fact that few items appear in the budget relative to the purchase of automobiles, but says that it is well established that there are many of them owned and maintained out of state funds.

LARGEST "NEGRO CITIES"

At the end of every year the president of the college for negroes at Tuskegee, Ala., sends to the newspapers of the country a record of that year's lynching, presumably compiled from the press dispatches. Tuskegee's record for 1920 shows: 52 lynchings in the south and 9 in the north and west, an encouraging falling below previous records no doubt due to the fact further shown that in 56 instances (10 in the north and 46 in the south) officers of the law prevented lynchings. It is surprising that Tuskegee is not also interested in anti-negro rioting in urban centers. A record of such riots in 1920 would show that by far the most serious occurred outside of the south—in the cities of Chicago, Omaha and Washington. This brings attention to the fact of further interest that the largest urban populations of negroes are in the north.

The southern rural districts still contain the bulk of the negro population, but the largest "negro cities"—as a news headline puts it—are Chicago, New York, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia, the only southern city with a negro population to approximate any of those being New Orleans. Chicago is now said to be the chief "negro city" of America. During the last ten years its negro population has grown 150 per cent, a ratio of growth seven times greater than that of its white population. Of course there is not the remotest chance that Chicago's black population will ever outnumber its white—a threatening possibility that long overshadowed many a southern community—but Chicago and the other northern cities named have on their hands a negro problem of increasing magnitude, a problem complicated not merely by race prejudice but the manipulation by politicians of a largely purchasable vote.

Apparently the legislature is not going to defer action on matters that can be taken up early. The plan is to get the legislation to carry out the governor's recommendations ready as early as possible so that it can be given proper consideration. The work of training the bills has been under way and the propositions should be before the members right away.

Senator Lusk, the majority leader of the senate, issued a statement that was to the point. It was really an appeal to the people making moral support in the effort the legislature will make to bring about economical reform. Senator Lusk believes that it is appealing to the people it will be a memorandum to the law-makers in the big work that is before the administration. There is nothing that gives a man more courage than to feel that his constituents are behind him and that they approve of what he is doing when he is doing what he knows, and they know, is right.

State officials generally are in accord with the purpose of Governor Miller relative to economy and he will have their support in every instance if what is said in and about Albany can be taken to mean anything. The state officers are Republicans and they are as anxious as anybody else to prove that the Republican party is the party of intelligence and integrity. Every man was proud to run on the ticket and they are all glad to help in what the Republican party believes should be done for the people who supported the party at the polls.

While they may contain interesting readings, departmental reports from now on will not add to the waste paper stock that is sold every year. Governor Miller has said a few things about the waste in printing making particular reference to these reports. It would appear as if printing bills would be smaller in the future.

CIVIC PUBLICITY IN GERMANY

Over There They Used To Exploit Almost Every Thing From Beer To The Kaiser's Sons—Grasped All Chances To Work On The Tourist Trade.

Germany could teach us a few things about civic publicity. The smallest German hamlets before the war had on sale "views" taken from every conceivable point about the place, and no passerby was allowed to miss the opportunity to send a few home, with the scrawled line, "Wish you were here," written under the picture of Bismarck's statue or the illustration of some old castle.

A wag once said that they even erected statues to heroes so that they could make post cards of the statues to sell to this tourist trade. The nation advertised everything which it had, from beer to Kaiser's sons, until they were known the world over.

Quick now—who is the Crown Prince of England? But, of course, you know that the ex-Crown Prince of Germany was Frederick Wilhelm. There's an example of advertising for you.

Voltaire may be taken for the father of real advertising. That shrewd gentleman wrote a number of books, which he issued anonymously. When their sales began to pick up, and persons began to wonder who was writing those brilliant satires after the Persian, Voltaire admitted the authorship and reaped the fruits of his own advertising.

Even a Prussian prince paid tribute to his sagacity—and it was no fault of Voltaire's if the world would not heed his advice. Anyway, he made a tidy sum because he knew that it paid to advertise.

Emerson was only partly right when he said that the world would make tracks to the door of the man who made a better mousetrap than the other fellow; the truth is, some large waisted financier will incorporate him and build a railroad to his warehouse if he advertises enough to catch the attention of fifty million housewives.

In the meanwhile the old world goes spinning on, and the chap who advertises consistently, time after time and backs up his advertising with sales service and efficient handling of goods, is the one who puts his order for that imported automobile which, by the way, is advertised in the Sunday automobile section while the other chaps haunt the secondhand dollar down market.

Even the gambler who called himself "Honest John" knew the value of publicity, and capitalized himself assumed nickname, yet some of America's most worthy merchants find that advertising doesn't pay because they never tried it.

And never having tried it, they are forced to wait on the trade themselves, while their wily advertising competitors are enacting statefairs for a tour of the battlefields where "four boys" fought and died, and where some yet rest under the Cross of Wood.

It's a great life, if you advertise the fact that you are alive. Only the dead should go to the morgue.

AT THE THEATRES.

Variety at Opera House—Hill-Durke at Reciter's.

The Girl From Reciter's, a novelty specialty with six good singers and dancers, is the headliner at the Opera House for the first half of this week. The artists were featured at Monday's performances. The Randolph Sisters do a singing, dancing and piano trio and George Hunter, the blackface comedian, has a barrel of jokes and songs. The playhouse today is Tom Moore in "The Great Accident," a peer, good for nothing "dub" who became the "boss" of the town.

Billie Burke in "Away Goes The Doctor" is the story of a headstrong young man who takes of society and its ills and turns a burlesque just for a laugh with resultant funny situations. Tomorrow Owen Moore will present in "The Poor Family" a comedy of love, life and laughter. Leaving tonight, the new screen beauty will be the attraction at the Auditorium tonight in "The Little Gray Mouse." The Hallmark Boys in "Back to the Future" is the comedy feature and for an added thrill Al Jennings in "A Wild and Woolly Western." Tomorrow Robert Warwick in "Sudden Rikings."

HOME-SEEKERS' ANNUAL MEETING

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Home-Seekers' Co-operative Savings & Loan Association held on Monday evening, the following officers were elected: President, James Tongue; vice-president, Remsen B. DuBois; treasurer, Charles R. O'Connor; secretary, Irvin McCausland; directors, Charles D. Carter, D. S. Harry G. Smith, Palmer A. Canfield, Daniel Halloran, Morris Hynes.

The other directors of the association are Allen S. Hammond, Fred J. Waller, Henry W. Otis and Jacob Owen.

The annual report shows: The association made a phenomenal growth the past year. The number of shares outstanding on January 1 was $3,300, an increase of 2,000 shares, or nearly one-third more than a year ago. The usual dividend at the rate of six per cent has been declared.

During the last few years the co-operative savings and loan associations have been making giant strides, because the housing situation has brought home to so many people the peculiar advantages these institutions offer for the acquisition of a home. All the prospective home-owner has to have is one-quarter of the cost of the property he wishes to build or buy, and the savings and loan association will loan him the other three-quarters. He pays back the loan in monthly installments that, in most cases, are not more than the rent he would have to pay for the house, and in twelve years or less he has paid for his property in full. More than that, he has the privilege of discharging his obligation in a shorter time by making larger payments, and he is free from any apprehension of his loan being called, because so long as he meets his payments he cannot be disturbed.

The advantages of these associations are not confined to the person who is ready to buy a home, however. By far the larger part of their members are not borrowers, but belong to the associations for the purpose of accumulating a part of their incomes. They subscribe for one or more shares and must deposit one dollar on each share monthly. No lapses are permitted and deposits are subject to fine if not made when due. It is this feature of regular systematic deposits, together with the high dividends and almost absolute security that make these associations such attractive mediums for accumulation money.

The "Home-Seekers" is in its thirty-second year of successful operation. Twenty series of its shares have already matured and the 21st series will mature very shortly. Another new series opens February 7 and subscriptions are now being received at the association's office, No. 2 East Strand.

GRIP EPIDEMIC HITS PARIS

Colds and Coughs Are All Traced Back to Inclement Weather of Armistice Day.

Paris—An epidemic of sneezing, coughing, colds in the head and other similar ailments has struck Paris. In the autobuses, tramways, subways, restaurants everyone has his handkerchief in hand for constant use. Drug stores and physicians are doing a rushing business. The climax of a love scene at one of the theaters was utterly spoiled when the audience commented to cough and sneeze unanimously.

Ask any of the sufferers where they got it and the answer is stereotyped: "I caught that on Armistice day, standing bareheaded in the foggy, damp weather, while the procession baredheaded in the procession for nearly three miles, was one of the sufferers."

What Every American Should Know About His Country and Its Industries

Facts About a Manufacturing Business Explained to the Minister.

MANY people are surprised when they learn of the many conditions and facts that exist and must be considered in the conduct of a successful manufacturing business. An explanation made to a prominent minister by a leading manufacturer resulted in a better understanding of business relations in a certain community.

Two of the largest items that enter into the conduct of a manufacturing business are wages and materials. In most cases seventy-five per cent of the gross income that is paid out goes for these two items. The other twenty-five per cent is represented in dividends or profits to owners and interest on borrowed money. Insurance, taxes, overhead and numerous other small items in the store and checking account materials are a very large factor in the work and other similar industries wages to employees are the biggest factor. In building a frame dwelling home, labor is the largest item. In the largest and most profitable of our big industries, the amount paid out to stockholders and bondholders is comparatively small in relation to the large sums paid to employees in wages. In 1919 the U. S. Steel Corporation paid to employees in wages $100,000,000, while the cost of its stock and bonds received only $72,000,000, which latter sum represents only about one-third of a cent a pound on the tonnage of steel produced during that year. This was one of the Corporation's most profitable years.

LEND FARMERS
TWO BILLIONS

Covers Harding Says Reserve
Banks Increased Instead of Restricting Loans.

FIGURES REFUTE CHARGES

More Than Two-and-a-Half Times as Much Paper Was Discounted in Eleven Months of 1920 as in the Year 1919—Report to Congress.

Washington.—More than two and one-half times as much agricultural paper was rediscounted by Federal Reserve banks in the 11 months down to December 1, 1920, as was rediscounted during the entire year of 1919, according to estimates furnished by Governor Harding of the federal reserve board to Senator A. J. Gronna, chairman of the senate committee on agriculture. The estimates furnished show that farm paper rediscounted last year amounted to almost $2,000,000,000. The estimates are: 1920, $1,950,000,000; 1919, $729,298,000.

The farmers have been complaining that Federal Reserve banks discriminated against them, and instead of making credits to the growers more elastic, actually restricted loans. Treasury officials have consistently maintained that credits were not restricted but were greatly increased. Nevertheless, the farmers have insisted that they have been discriminated against, and on this contention they have based their demand for a revival of the War Finance corporation. The bill reviving the corporation has been passed by congress.

More Loans Than Are Tabulated.

In his letter to Senator Gronna, Governor Harding intimates that while his figures are merely estimates based on the production and sales of farm products, undoubtedly much more money than is tabulated was actually loaned to the farmers. He writes:

"In compliance with the request made in your letter of December 14, for information regarding the amount of actual agricultural paper rediscounted during the years 1919 and 1920 (to date), based on agricultural production and sales of the respective years, I have the honor to submit herewith copy of a tabular statement compiled from telegraphic data received from all Federal Reserve banks.

"Section 13 of the federal reserve act provides that notes, drafts and bills drawn or issued for agricultural purposes or based on live stock having a maturity of not longer than six months, are eligible for rediscount by a Federal Reserve bank, the limit of maturity in all other cases being 90 days. The Federal Reserve banks rediscount large amounts of agricultural paper which has a maturity not exceeding 90 days, but such paper is classified with other paper of like maturity.

"Therefore, agricultural and live stock paper, as shown by the Federal Reserve banks, applies only to paper having a maturity of longer than 90 days. The board receives this information from day to day and the amount of agricultural discount at each Federal Reserve bank, this is, paper having a maturity of from ninety days to six months, is published each month in the Federal Reserve Bulletin.

"The special figures furnished by the Federal Reserve banks in accordance with your request are in all cases estimates, no exact figures of the total volume of loans for agricultural purposes being available at the Federal Reserve banks. In the first place, most of the borrowings at Federal Reserve banks by member banks during the year 1919 and a considerable proportion of these borrowings during the current year have been in the form of the borrowing banks' own notes, secured by government obligations or by commercial, industrial and agricultural paper. It is known that member banks in New York city have made large loans to their correspondent banks throughout the country, and it is reasonable to suppose that part of the proceeds of such loans have been applied by the borrowing banks for agricultural purposes, but it is impossible to state the amount.

Conditions Similar in Other Banks.

"The same is true with respect to loans made by member banks in Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Kansas City, New Orleans and other financial centers throughout the country. Non-member State banks lend large sums in the aggregate for agricultural purposes. But as they have no dealings with the Federal Reserve banks their loans to farmers are not reflected in the figures furnished by the Federal Reserve banks, although it is a fact that all Federal Reserve banks have been lending a large amount to member banks, which have in turn rediscounted paper for member banks.

"It should be borne in mind also that the total amount of farmers' notes rediscounted by Federal Reserve banks gives no indication of the amount advanced by the Federal Reserve banks to finance the production and sale of farm products, since large amounts advanced to member banks in other districts are used by those banks to loan to agricultural interests, while the Federal Reserve banks of Richmond, Atlanta, St. Louis and Minneapolis have taken account of loans of this character by increasing proportionately the amounts formally advanced as farmers' loans.

"In view of these facts, it is evident that the conclusion transmitted herewith is a conservative one, indicating the increased amount of agricultural paper rediscounted by the Federal Reserve banks for member banks during the year 1920 over the year 1919.

The board transmits also a table prepared from figures published in the Federal Reserve Bulletin, showing the holdings by each Federal Reserve bank on the last Friday in each month during the years 1919 and 1920 of paper placed by the Federal Reserve banks as agricultural and live stock paper. This classification does not include anything but notes having a maturity of longer than 90 days. It will be noted that there has been a steady increase in these holdings since the beginning of the present year and that this increase has continued after October of the present year, while in 1919 normal reductions from the high September figures are shown during the months of October, November and December.

"The increased holdings of agricultural paper by the Federal Reserve bank of Boston during July and August of the present year, represent in the greater part paper held under rediscount for other Federal Reserve banks. The comment made regarding the incompleteness of the figures in the first table applies with equal force to the figures in the table showing the monthly holdings, which are exclusive of the Federal Reserve bank holdings of nonagricultural paper, the proceeds of which may have been used by the member banks to finance production and sales of agricultural staples."

Governor Harding's estimate of the paper rediscounted with the Federal Reserve banks based on the production and sale of farm products, follows: In each case the 1919 figures are given first, and the 1920 figures second. The figures, as applied to the Federal Reserve banks in each of 12 cities, are:

Here Are the Figures.	1919	1920
Boston	$1,542,000	$4,979,000
New York	No data	No data
Philadelphia	2,971,000	3,550,000
Cleveland	612,000	1,732,000
Richmond	102,400,000	236,000,000
Atlanta	91,300,000	291,000,000
Chicago	67,353,000	128,400,000
St. Louis	20,000,000	46,000,000
Minneapolis	75,000,000	285,000,000
Kansas City	123,400,000	325,000,000
Dallas	25,907,000	44,917,000
San Francisco	45,000,000	122,000,000

Total for 12 banks $1,236,000,000 $1,950,000,000

The second table alluded to by Governor Harding, showing the total amount of live stock and agricultural paper held by each Federal Reserve bank on the last Friday of every month during the last two years reveals that the 12 banks began with $53,000,000 of this paper in January, 1919, going to $48,250,000 in June of that year and decreasing to $1,088,000 in December last year. From $58,906,000 in January, 1920, the amount rose steadily until no less than $245,599,000 was in the banks in November of last year.

GIRL ASKS $500,000 BLM

Artist's Model Says William Barbour, Thread Manufacturer, Beat and Jilted Her.

New York.—Robert Barbour, son of the late Col. William Barbour, founder of the Barbour thread mills, and himself a manufacturer of thread in Paterson, N. J., appeared at the office of Sheriff Knott and filed a bond of $2500 to assure his presence in court at the trial of the action brought against him by Miss May B. Rollins for $500,000 damages.

She charges him with having broken a promise to marry her and with having beaten her when she was in his apartment. He denies both allegations.

Miss Rollins is said to have been an artist's model in Brooklyn, before she met Mr. Barbour. In her complaint she alleges that he invited her to his apartment on July 13 last, bound her hands and beat her "with a rod, stick or whip." Afterward, she adds, he repudiated his promise of marriage.

Walked Hundreds of Miles
To See Dying Daughter

After walking several hundred miles overland from their home in the Ozark mountains of northwestern Arkansas, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Alexander, carrying a shotgun and an umbrella, respectively, arrived at Monroe, La., in response to letters from their daughter, critically ill, who begged to see them before she died. Unable to buy railroad tickets, the aged pair started afoot. They made the journey in three weeks, sleeping under trees.

3,000 GERMANS TO BRAZIL

Wait in Fatherland to Embark for South America—One Province Wants 1,000.

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.—Three thousand Germans, some unaccompanied, others with their families, are waiting in Germany to embark for Brazil, where they wish to settle, according to notices received by the Brazilian ministry of agriculture from the German emigration department.

Governors of all Brazilian states have been asked by the head of the Brazilian immigration service whether they wish to accept German colonists, and bear expense of transportation. Espírito Santo state has replied that it is prepared to accept 1,000. Other states have not yet responded.

Primitive Fire.
The earliest kind of gun, or of spring using the same principle as gun, were probably those of the small bones of fish and other animals. Among the remains found on the sites of prehistoric lake dwellings of Europe there are a number of bone pins, some of steel and others of an organic form. The great majority of the pins in these "bones" are, however, of bronze; but a few of copper and one of iron have also been discovered.

The last will and testament of Julia McCoy, deceased, whose will was made in Chicago, in 1906, has been admitted to probate, on the petition of Lina Luckenback, to whom $1,500 was placed in trust, the income to be paid to decedent's father.

Y. M. C. A. TEAMS GET INSTRUCTIONS

After participating in a good supper provided by the lunch room under the management of the Ladies' Auxiliary the Y. M. C. A. captains and workers last evening received information relative to the successful procedure of the A. B. C. campaign. The fourteen teams were well represented.

The membership chairman, William C. DeWitt, who has been on this committee for some time back, introduced Charles Ramsey, the campaign chairman. Mr. Ramsey is a well known manufacturer in Kingston and he gave his reasons for supporting and cooperating with the membership committee. He showed his interest and belief in Association work and stated that with the cooperation of the workers a successful campaign would be achieved. He requested Maurice S. Safford, the general secretary, to furnish information that would be valuable to the workers. The following suggestions were made by the secretary:

First—Application blanks should be carried by all workers and that information as to the different memberships could be found on the back of the application blanks.

Second—List of the different vocations and of various manufacturing workers were distributed to the captains and workers. In case there was a duplication of any firm it should be classified as to its most natural heading and the worker under that particular letter would see the party or parties.

Third—In order that the workers might know who were now members so that these men would not need to be seen a list of the present membership was turned over to the various teams. The worker then could check his prospective list with the present membership and avoid calling on those already members.

Fourth—The reports for the workers to each captain would be made at the Association rooms, Wednesday.

Friday and Monday evenings at 7:30. The close of the campaign being January 24th.

Fifth—Other lists including some of the renewals which are to be seen will be furnished the workers on Wednesday night.

Sixth—New members would be the ones that would increase the membership from its present record. The goal is for a senior membership of all classes of 700.

Mayor Canfield complimented the workers on their readiness to share in this particular drive. He spoke of the worth of the Association in the community and his knowledge of Kingston and its people assured him that this alphabetical campaign would be a success beyond the goal set.

MR. MAYER REMEMBERED. Freeman from Mrs. DeGroff's home of 65 Years Ago.

When John M. Mayer, the veteran wagon manufacturer, read in The Freeman a few days ago of the 51st birthday of Mrs. Rachel M. DeGroff of Montvale, N. J., formerly of Elster Park, his thoughts turned back to the days of his youth, when he worked as a blacksmith for Mrs. DeGroff's husband at his shop in Port Ewen, and, coupled with his employer. This was in 1856 or 1857, and to express "it in modern slang," "they were the happy days" for Mrs. DeGroff. "I made the best pan-cakes that Mr. Mayer had found in America," said both Mr. and Mrs. DeGroff. "I treated the young German workman as a member of their family. Although he had not seen Mrs. DeGroff in 60 years, Mr. Mayer remembered—and remembering, set down and wrote a letter of congratulation and reminiscence, not forgetting to mention the pan-cakes, which Mrs. DeGroff will greatly appreciate when she receives it.

Condition to Be Dreaded. There are worse things than losing money; you can get it back again; but when you go bankrupt on peace and contentment, you are of all men the most miserable.

WHEN you purchase Gas Coke your money buys more heat units dollar for dollar than are obtainable in any other solid fuel. This is because in our process of Gas making we have extracted from the coal practically all of the waste matter. The money you spend for Gas Coke, therefore buys pure heat—not smoke, soot, dirt or tar, which are heat-reducers. Gas Coke is a heat-producer.

Fill your fuel bins now at the present low price. Save money on your fuel bill.

UNIONS SHY AT CALDER'S BILL

Washington, Jan. 18.—Representatives of organized labor threatened opposition to certain provisions of the Calder coal regulation bill as "camouflaged anti-strike legislation" when the senate manufacturing committee began hearings today.

John L. Lewis, president, and William Green, secretary, of the United Mine Workers, were among the union officials present.

It was pointed out those provisions empowering the president to take over the coal mines in an emergency affecting the public health and welfare, and authorizing the federal trade commission to determine what would constitute such an emergency, would involve miners and operators alike.

The fear was entertained by leaders of organized labor, it was stated, that the provisions might be so construed as to deny miners the right to strike, or to justify federal interference in disputes between the miners and operators.

William T. Chantland, of counsel for the Calder committee on reconstruction and production, which prepared the bill, admitted the provisions probably would apply to strikes. He declared the committee sought to cloak the president and the federal trade commission with ample powers to prevent coal shortages, inadequate production, or exorbitant prices such as had caused widespread suffering, especially among the poor, during the past two years.

KLOOR BEGINS
STORY OF TRIP

Although He Knew He Was on Way

To Canada, Lieutenant Says He

Passed Up Easy Chance to Land

at Wells and Decided to Try All

Night—Farrell Not at Session of Naval Board of Inquiry.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Rockaway, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Although warned by a meteorological officer that if he ascended to 2,000 feet altitude he would strike a wind that might carry him to Canada,

Lieutenant A. L. Kloor, in charge of the free balloon that came down near

Hudson Bay told naval probers today that his first operation was to get the balloon back into that altitude. He said such a height was best that day, he found, for operations.

It would have been possible, he stated, "just as easy as falling off a log" to have come down after colliding with a tree at Wells, N. Y., but having sufficient ballast, he decided to fly out the night.

Speaking in a calm, deliberate voice, with Lieutenant Walter Hinton, of NC-4 fame, one of his passengers, Kloor gave details of the flight from beginning to end to a naval inquiry board.

The balloon that carried himself,

Hinton and Lieutenant Stephen A.

Farrell to Canada, Kloor said, was in excellent condition when he left it, the basket resting upon the ground and the gas bag festooned in a tree top.

After describing the rise of the balloon to escape a rain storm, only to be caught by a heavy wind in the darkness of night, and the tossing

journey, Kloor resumed:

"At 1:15 p. m. on December 14,

we all three thought we heard the bark of a dog below. I pointed out an object which looked like a small house. We all agreed it was. We didn't stop to consider anything but immediately passed the word: "Land."

"Lieutenants Hinton and Farrell cooperated with me in every respect, and with their aid everything was made ready for landing. I could

we would land from our position of 6,200 feet altitude with safety to a

"When we were 30 feet above the tree tops I shouted out the order:

"Bend your knees," so as to take care of any possible bumps. A very good landing was made, considering the circumstances. No one was hurt."

The market closed strong; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

WOMEN'S TEAMS MEET TONIGHT

A basketball league for the members of the ladies' gym class at the Y. M. C. A. has been organized with four fast teams. Last year the ladies' class had an interesting and close race in the basketball league and this year's race is expected to be even more so. The teams making up the league are the Big Five, the Ramblers, the Dixies and the Midgets. The first game of the season is scheduled for this evening after the gym class when the Big Five will amble out to meet the Ramblers. Following the class and the game a committee in charge has planned a social for the class members.

The line-up of the Big Five includes the Misses Tappen, Joslowitz, Christians, Hutton, Harms, Bergen, F. Davis and Mrs. Ed. Tongue. The Ramblers have selected Misses Stephen, M. Hermann, L. Phillips, Van Wagoner, O. Rieley and Mrs. Marz. Among the players of the Dixies are a number of experienced players, including Misses Meeker, Herdman, E. Phillips, Bayler, Whitaker and Edith DuFon. The Midgets, which are not all what their name indicates, have among their players some of the best in the league. They are Elizabeth DuFon, C. Hermann, Juddins, Haulenbeck, Coughlin, Kolb and Hyde.

The schedule for the league follows:
Jan. 18—Big Five vs. Ramblers.
Jan. 25—Dixies vs. Midgets.
Feb. 1—Big Five vs. Dixies.
Feb. 8—Ramblers vs. Midgets.
Feb. 15—Big Five vs. Midgets.
Feb. 22—Dixies vs. Ramblers.
Mar. 1—Big Five vs. Ramblers.
Mar. 8—Dixies vs. Dixies.
Mar. 15—Big Five vs. Dixies.
Mar. 22—Ramblers vs. Midgets.
Mar. 29—Big Five vs. Midgets.
Apr. 5—Dixies vs. Ramblers.

COLONIAL GAMES TONIGHT

Centrals vs. St. Peter's and Eagles vs. St. Mary's.

Though very few games remain to be played before the close of the season, the attendance at the Colonial League games continues very good. This proves beyond a doubt that this league is popular in Kingston and that fans look forward with regret to the close of its season, with the coming of Lent.

This evening two fast games are scheduled. The Centrals meet St. Peter's for the first game and St. Mary's and the Eagles will stage the second tussle. Fans are sure to see some lively and exciting basketball when "Jake Meyers" crew meets the St. Peter's boys, who have been playing remarkably well lately. In the second contest St. Mary's outfit will try to shake off the jinx that has attached itself to his company.

Matty Deuce will be unable to referee the games this week, but Matty Clark will bat in his place, and he knows the game. Balfe's orchestra will supply music and refreshments will be served as usual after the game.

DOUBLE SUICIDE

Inmates of State Hospital Poison and Drink Coffee.

Two inmates of the State Homeopathic Hospital at Middletown, Charlotte Wheeler, aged 37, and Martha Gotaling, 45, fulfilled a suicide compact Sunday morning by drinking coffee in which they had placed roach powder, brushed up from the floor.

Miss Wheeler left a note in a Bible saying that for economic reasons the insane would be better off dead.

BOTH COFFEYS ARE TO FIGHT

Vince Coffey, welterweight champion of the Hudson river valley, and his brother, Battling Joe, are matched to fight before the Argonne Club in Poughkeepsie, Wednesday evening, January 26. Vince will step twelve rounds in the star bout with Johnny Martin, the Poughkeepsie lightweight, who has won decisions over Lew Tondler and other fast boys. Joe fights six rounds with Joe Romanello of Poughkeepsie, who is known in the bridge city as the knockout king. There will be another six round bout between Tark Kelly of Wappingers Falls and Kid Troubles of Brooklyn. The Kid knocked out his man, another Brooklyn boy, recently in a fight in Poughkeepsie, and Turk will have to step some to win the decision. The curtain raiser will be a four round bout between Kid Toney and Young Joe, both of the Bridge City. The fact that both Coffeys are to fight on the same card will cause a large number of Kingston fight fans to attend the go that evening.

MAUTERSTOCK RECITAL

Interesting Program Given By Pupil Saturday.
